Annual Review of Resource Economics

Volume 3 • October 2011 • Online & In Print • <http://resource.annualreviews.org>

Editor: Gordon C. Rausser, University of California, Berkeley

The Annual Review of Resource Economics provides authoritative critical reviews evaluating the most significant research developments in resource economics, focusing on agricultural economics, environmental economics, renewable resources, and exhaustible resources. Volume 3 emphasizes research on current crucial issues including climate change, sustainability, the food crisis, and the energy crisis. Methodologies that are critical to environmental and resource economics are highlighted, including nonmarket valuations, assessment for environmental regulations of risk changes as they relate to mortality and morbidity effects, and methods to analyze dynamic systems operating under uncertainty and irreversibility.
